

Genocide Prevention: a 21st-Century Challenge Panelists

Abbey Weiss

Abbey Weiss, PsyD, LP, obtained her Doctorate of Psychology in Clinical Psychology from the Minnesota School of Professional Psychology at Argosy University/Twin Cities. She is licensed by the Minnesota Board of Psychology as a Licensed Psychologist. Dr. Weiss has worked at the Center for Victims of Torture since 2006 as a psychotherapist providing evaluation and treatment services for clients from more than 10 different countries. She also works on The Healing in Partnership Project, which brings mental health education and treatment outside of the clinic and into communities affected by war and trauma. She is currently working with Karen (pronounced kah-REN) refugees from Burma and Bhutanese refugees.

Center for Victims of Torture
649 Dayton Avenue
St. Paul, MN 55104

Tel: (612) 436-4800
Email: aweiss@CVT.org
<http://www.cvt.org/>

Natela Jordan

Natela Jordan has worked in the field of human rights education since 1999. Her experience comes from Central Asia, Eastern Europe, and the United States with such international non-profit organizations as Open Society Institute (Soros Foundation), Central European University, Freedom House, and the University of Minnesota Human Rights Center. Natela worked with a variety of audiences from students, teachers, and school administrators, to university students and community members, to lawyers and human rights advocates. Natela holds a B.A. degree in Russian-English Translation and M.A. degree in International Human Rights. She organized international human rights advocacy and human rights education events, and worked as a human rights trainer, curriculum designer, and course director. Natela joined the University of Minnesota Human Rights Center in 2006 and now works as Education Program Director.

Human Rights Center
University of Minnesota
Mondale Hall, N-120
229-19th Avenue South
Minneapolis, MN 55455

Tel: (612) 626-0041
Email: jorda274@umn.edu
<http://www1.umn.edu/humanrts/center/default.html>

Therese Gales

Therese M. Gales serves as Information Officer for the American Refugee Committee, an international humanitarian aid agency that works with refugees around the world to help them take back control of their lives. Ms. Gales oversees ARC's public relations and outreach activities and has conducted organizational site visits to Rwanda, Pakistan, Haiti, Serbia, Kosovo, and Montenegro. Prior to this, Ms. Gales worked at The Advocates for Human Rights where she directed a public education and policy initiative about immigration. Previously Ms. Gales served as program coordinator in a refugee camp in Croatia and worked with refugee-based organizations in Germany and Austria. She graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a degree in Anthropology and History, and she also served as a Policy Fellow at the Humphrey School of Public Affairs.

ARC World Headquarters
615 1st Avenue NE, Suite 500
Minneapolis, MN 55413

Tel: (612) 872-7060
Email: thereseG@archq.org
<http://www.arcrelief.org/site/PageServer>